

The Comforter Has Come

www.franzdorfer.com

O spread the ti - dings 'round      Wher - e - ver man is found,      Wher -
The long, long night is past,      the mor - ning breaks at last,      And Lo, the great King of kings      with heal - ing in His wings,      To O bound - less Love di - vine!      how shall this tongue of mine      To e - ver hu - man hearts      and hu - man woes a - bound;      Let hushed the dread - ful wail      and fu - ry of the blast,      As ev' - ry cap - tive soul      a full de - liv - 'rance brings;      And wond - 'ring mor - tals tell      the match - less grace di - vine:      That ev - 'ry Chris - tian tongue      pro - claim the joy - ful sound:      The Com - for - ter has come!

6

10
o'er the gol - den hills      the day ad - van - ces fast!      The Com - for - ter has come!
through the va - cant cells      the song of tri - umph rings;      The Com - for - ter has come!
I, a child of hell,      should in His i - mage shine!      The Com - for - ter has come!

17
The Com - for - ter has come,      the Com - for - ter has come!      The Ho - ly Ghost from heav'n,      the Fa - ther's pro - mise giv'n;      O spread the ti - dings round      wher - e - ver man is found:      The Com - for - ter has come!

25  